

Phaedrus stared into the animal's eyes for a long time, and for a moment felt some kind of recognition.